i have heard that you are going to take the traffic and weather report off the air. I am telling you that would be a big mistake. Do you realize how many people listen to that and rely on that to get to work on time and to avoid traffic accidents so they dont have to wait till the wreck is cleaned up? I used to be a truck driver and im telling you that helped me. As well as other drivers out there. My uncle owns a trucking company that has drivers that listens to that station to see if the weather is bad where they are going or where there are any road delays that could cause their load to be late which if their loads are late then they lose another day and not to mention pay. So i am asking you not to take it off the air because so many people need that station for a lot of different reasons these are just a few.
